

Trashing old electronics just doesn't compute!

Your old computers and electronics now have a place to go!

Celebrate Earth Day early!

Recycle your old electronic equipment by dropping it off (free) at our NIH collection site. The equipment will be refurbished or the component materials recycled!

When? Saturday, April 12th (rain or shine)
9:00am to 4:00pm

Where? White Flint Mall Parking Lot 3 (Signs will be posted)
For maps, check our web site: <http://www.nih.gov/od/ors/ds/ecycle/>

What? Electronic equipment in any condition
New, used or junk: computers, monitors, printers, scanners, keyboards, mice, modems, laptops, TVs, typewriters, fax and answering machines, phones, VCRs, radios, stereos, and tape players. No government property will be accepted.

Why? eCycling electronics keeps dangerous materials out of landfills and waste incinerators.
Computers and accessories, televisions and other electronic equipment contain toxic materials such as arsenic, lead, mercury, and cadmium. These materials need to be handled properly and not released into the environment.

More Info? From the NIH: <http://www.nih.gov/od/ors/ds/ecycle/>
From the EPA: <http://www.epa.gov/reg3wcmd/eCycling.htm>

Sponsors? U.S. EPA and the Maryland Department of the Environment, in cooperation with Division of Safety, Office of Research Services, National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services